BRIEF.

—Temperance people meet this evening.

—Regular meeting of the common council this evening.

—Janesville Lodge No. 55, F. and A. M., occupy Masonic hall this evening.

—The Temple of Honor meet this evening, in their hall in the Judd block.

—Remember the Social of the Ladies aid society of the church, which will be held in Apollo hall this evening.

—The early closing of the stores takes effect this evening, so be very careful or you may get left with your market basket.

—Mrs. J. G. Orent and son, who have been spending the holidays with friends in this city, returned to their home in Chicago on Saturday afternoon.

—Everybody ought to be aware with the world at least once a year. The first of January is a good time to balance accounts. Pay your debts and be happy.

—Hereafter the passenger train on the Atton branch of the Chicago & Northwestern road will leave Janesville at 9:35 a. m. and return at 10:15 a. m.

—Mr. H. A. McChesney, of the Albany Yacht Club, spent Sunday in the city. He reports Albany in a prosperous condition and rapidly recovering from the effects of the fire.

—Tax payers will bear in mind that the 3 per cent discount allowed by law on state and county taxes, expires on the tenth inst, after which the law adds 5 per cent to the amount.

—The Atchison Patriot, one of the leading republican papers of Kansas, comes out favoring the election of Hon. George R. Peck as governor of that state, which his many friends in Janesville will heartily second.

—The Villa combination will open an engagement of two performances on Wednesday evening at Myers opera house. Reserved seats can now be secured at Prentice & Evenson's. There will be a double bill each night.

—The public library rooms are now open to the public, and the "officials" invite all citizens to visit the rooms, and read the books and papers. The trustees hope to be able to issue books by Wednesday. The rooms will be open for the accommodation of the public every afternoon and evening.

—We made a little mistake in Saturday's evening's paper when we stated that the coldest day last year "was on February 5th, when the thermometer was 24 degrees below zero." The fact is, according to our record, that January 23d was the coldest day, the register being 33 degrees below zero, and on the following day it was 31 degrees below zero.

—The Beloit Free Press. "The large house and all of its contents owned by Mr. Holzman, a short distance this side of Atton station, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The house was insured in favor of the mortgage, and the family, in which there are seven children, is left penniless and without any clothing. Their case is said to be worthy of charity."

—On Saturday evening Marshal Hogan received a telegram from Edgerton, to arrest a party by the name of Charles Schelling, who had taken a silver watch, valued at $27, from Mr. Green. The marshal soon found his man and placed him behind the bars, and yesterday Deputy Sheriff Brown came to the city and took Schelling to Fulton for examination. The prisoner admitted to Marshal Hogan that he took the watch, but had disposed of it to a party in Milton.

—Mr. George K. Steele, agent for Burr Robbins' Great Allied Shows, arrived in the city on Saturday evening from his West Virginia home, with a line of trawler or summer overcoat on his arm. As he stepped from the cars, he crawled up on the windward side of the "bus driver and exclaimed: "What! Alva, you have had a frost up here, haven't you?" Alva assured him that he had had considerable frost here of late, and that all tropical plants left exposed, had been killed; and suggested that he had better crawl into the back and wrap the buffalo robe about him, while he took him to the Myers house. Steele did not lose any time in complying with the suggestion, at the same time urging Alva to hurry up and take him to a good fire. Mr. Steele will undoubtedly be better prepared for frost the next time he ventures north from his smoky bow in Virginia.

—There was a very narrow escape from a fire yesterday in the Scordiff building on West Milwaukee street. About eight o'clock in the morning, Mr. Crie, Bertman, who works in Smith's harness shop in the upper story, where he has a bed room, made up his bed, and in changing the bedding, he thinks he dropped some fire from his pipe on the bed, unnoticed by him. After making his bed, he took his washing down in the fourth ward, returning in about an hour and a half. Upon opening the door of the shop he discovered the room full of smoke, and immediately went to his room, where he found his bed on fire. The bedding and mattress, which was made of shavings, were all destroyed. Several parties in the vicinity went to the assistance of Mr. Bertman, and the fire was soon extinguished, and before any damage to the building resulted. In the excitement Mr. Bertman lost a silver watch, which he says was hanging on the wall, and fifteen silver dollars were taken from his bureau. By the timely return of Mr. Bertman, a severe fire was averted.

—Griggs' Glycerine Salve.

—The Weather.

At seven o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer registered 25 degrees below zero. Clear with west wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was zero. Clear with north wind. At seven o'clock this morning the register was 23 degrees below zero. Partly cloudy with west wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 7 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy, with north wind.

THE TOBACCO ASSOCIATION.

A number of citizens, dealers and growers of tobacco, held a meeting on Saturday evening for the purpose of considering matters of interest to them, the main object being to express their opposition to the recent ruling of the Secretary of the Treasury, admitting Sumatra tobacco under the old rule, and passing a resolution requesting Hon. John W. Adams to appear as their representative before the secretary to-morrow, when the Sumatra question will be up for a new hearing, and urge upon the secretary the necessity of allowing the tax to remain at seventy-five cents per pound. After discussing several other questions, the meeting resolved to organize the Rock County Tobacco Dealers' and Growers' Association, and appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. A. B. Stevens, F. F. Stevens, C. B. Central, J. W. Pierce and E. W. Barker, a committee to frame the necessary articles of association and report at a future meeting. Mr. O. D. Rowe was chosen president of the temporary organization, and John C. Spencer secretary. Another meeting will be held as soon as the above committee complete their report, when the association will be fully organized.

That those who are interested in growing tobacco in this section may be better posted on the "Sumatra deal," we copy the following article from the Wisconsin Central, which fully explains the question:

It will be remembered by readers of the Wisconsin Central more than nine months ago that the defects of the new tariff law, as follows: "Local tobacco, of which 85 per cent, is of the requisite size and of the necessary fineness of texture to be suitable for wrappers, and of which more than one hundred leaves are required to weigh a pound, if not stemmed seventy-five cents per pound; if stemmed one dollar per pound." Strong efforts were made before the congressional committee of reference to amend the 85 per cent provision by substituting "per cent, of the weight of the tobacco, as determined by weighing fillers with wrappers in order to make saving in the duties."

We knew two months ago that the importers were working up a test case. An invoice of Sumatra tobacco, of the standard for the purpose of testing the tariff law on Sumatra tobacco. The tobacco was packed 20 per cent poor trash and 80 per cent fine wrappers. The case was referred to the secretary of the treasury, and he decided to test the law on import tobacco packed in this manner provided there is not over 50 per cent of the package fit for wrappers, under the 85 cent rate, the exact import has been sent to the secretary of the treasury. The small difference is not much gain in protection to those of the farmers.

The danger now is that on the strength of this decision, during the recess of congress, large quantities of Sumatra tobacco will be imported into New York. The market is already seriously affected. In view of these facts, all farmers interested in the production of tobacco, should now begin to arrange for the sale of their tobacco, and members of congress of both political parties, to make a united effort to prevent the disastrous results to trade and business that may possibly follow the secretary's decision. Perhaps the secretary can be induced to suspend his ruling so as to require the importers to pay the whole 75 cents duty under protest, and then let it go to the courts for final decision. In the meantime, perhaps a joint resolution could be passed through both houses of congress, setting forth the true meaning of the law.

In either event immediate action is required. The matter is one that comes home with especial force to those who have not sold their crops. The annual meeting of the New England tobacco growers association, to be held at the state house in Hartford, Connecticut, on next Tuesday, comes at a critical juncture. It should be attended by every farmer or other person interested in their living prices for domestic tobacco. Those who are not members should send a note of request to the secretary of the association, should be sent to Washington without delay. This committee should stay there until its purpose is accomplished. Liberal funds for this purpose should be provided. Had the committee been at Washington last winter during the whole time the matter was before congress, the unfortunate wording of the law could have been prevented and the present crisis. As the matter now stands, the farmers throughout the tobacco growing section of the United States must instantly and concertedly demand of their congressmen immediate attention to their necessities in the matter of a tariff on foreign tobacco.

Letter from Cyrus W. Field, Jr.

S East 56th street, New York, May 8th, 1883.

Several times this winter I have suffered from severe colds on my lungs. Each time I have applied to you for your Pectoral, and in every instance I have been quickly relieved by applying one across my back. My friends, through my advice, have tried the experiment and found it most successful. I feel sure that I can recommend the most highly to any one who may see fit to try them.

Cyrus W. Field, Jr.

Mistaken Identity.

At a Sunday school Christmas entertainment given by one of our churches last Christmas eve the liberal policy of giving every member of the school a nice present was faithfully carried out, and while the distribution was going on, everybody was happy. Sitting near us was a young German who had but recently joined the school and was a good deal surprised on receiving a nice gold headed pin. He turned to us and said, "Vell, dot is very good. I bin only stant come mit de school and I hardly tink dey give me a present. Vell dot is all right, I put him mit my bookket und come to Sunday schule some more."

About this time it was discovered that a mistake had been made and our friend was called upon for the pin. Reluctantly taking it out of his pocket he said, "Vell, dot is all right, I put him mit my bookket und come to Sunday schule some more."

A mistake had been made and our friend was called upon for the pin. Reluctantly taking it out of his pocket he said, "Vell, dot is all right, I put him mit my bookket und come to Sunday schule some more."

It is a pity that the system the only way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood. To this end, as is acknowledged by all medical men, nothing is better adapted than iron. The fault hitherto has been that iron has been regarded as being absolutely harmless to the teeth. This difficulty has been overcome by the Brown Chemical company of Baltimore, Md., who offer their Brown's Iron Bitters as a harmless iron preparation, a positive cure for dyspepsia, indigestion, headache, troubles, etc. Mr. James Walscheid, Howard's Grove, Wis., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters cured me when I seemed to be wasting away with consumption."

Mr. John Edwards, Wis., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters cured me of indigestion, rheumatism, etc."

THE CHICAGO, BURLINGTON &amp; QUINCY RAILROAD.

It begins to look as though we are to have another railroad. The great railroad controversy which is now going on between all the western road points to this one fact, and a dispatch, dated St. Paul, January 4th, to the Chicago Times says: "Notwithstanding the Illinois Central's defeat of backing the new road into west St. Paul, that road is believed here to be at the bottom of the scheme. It is pointed out that John S. Kennedy, the second official in rank in the Manitoba road, is president of the Illinois Central branch running from Waterloo to Mora. He is also the American representative of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy. The conclusion from this is that the Illinois Central will be the Manitoba's outlet to the east and that close traffic arrangements will be made between the two roads. The Manitoba road is anxious for an eastern outlet, and for some time rumor has given it several roads for this object. A railroad official says to-day that the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy is coming to St. Paul, and to St. Paul proper. It will not cross the river at Hastings, but will come up the east side, entering the city through a tunnel. During December the Burlington purchased sixty thousand tons of steel rails. The Burlington will during the season build to a junction with the Wisconsin Central, in order to gain access to the lumber regions of Wisconsin. A line has already been located to Janesville and Madison, and it is without doubt the intention to construct a line to Portage. The Rock Island is not believed to have in contemplation any additional line into St. Paul. It has already the Minneapolis and St. Louis, and to secure a short route to the west would be required to build a new line from Chicago to St. Paul. This, with the fact that the engineers of the Burlington company made the survey last summer as referred to above, would seem to confirm the report, which we hope is the case.

Weak back, rheumatism and all local pains are relieved and cured by Atkinson's DOLOREX PLASTER. One trial will convince you, but see that you get the genuine, as all other so-called Plasters without a single exception, are worthless imitations.

The Turkey Shoot.

Many of our readers who take an interest in sporting matters were not able to be present at the turkey shoot that came off as announced at Mr. Woodruff's farm on New Years day, and for their benefit we publish the following report of the day's sport, furnished by a member of the club who was present and assisted in bagging the game.

The "Angle Worm Club," of which I have the honor to be a member, has won many laurels during the past year, and being a progressive organization we proposed to celebrate the new year at its very opening, with a grand shoot that would be worthy of the name, and in keeping with the reputation of the club. Game balls and pigeons are well known for ordinary occasions, but for this first day of the new year nothing short of live turkeys at long range would answer for a target, and we gladly accepted an invitation from an honorary member of the club, to spend the day at his farm and slaughter turkeys to our heart's content. One friend also proposed to furnish as a prize to finish up the day's sport, a fine buck, and we entered the field with bright anticipations of a royal good time and a fine game supper. Many suggestions were offered as to rules for the day, and long and short range was freely discussed, and it was finally settled to the satisfaction of all, that as a turkey was a large mark, and every member of the club an expert, that 60 rods should be the distance. Any man who could capture three foot of live at that easy range, ought to go off with a shot gun and practice on black birds.

The day was cold and the air filled with frost and snow. Every member was on hand at 10 o'clock sharp, fully equipped with a Winchester rifle and a liberal supply of cartridges. We looked over the flock of turkeys and suggested to them that this would be their last happy New Year, and turned away thankful that we were not turkeys.

Our host kindly reminded us that dinner would be served promptly at 12 o'clock, and as the weather was disagreeable, said perhaps it would be well to secure a sheltered spot and shoot off hand at 35 rods until noon.

We reluctantly consented to this suggestion, fearing that at so short range the stock of birds would soon be exhausted. Selecting twenty of the smallest ones we said we could have a little sport in bagging this number before dinner, and the balance of the flock would be an easy walk-away for the afternoon at longer range.

At 10:30 time was called, and the fun commenced. After the first round, and when the smoke had cleared away, we were a little surprised to see the turkey stretch up his long neck, apparently feeling well. Then the bombardment commenced in earnest, and continued until the bell announced dinner. With a last desperate effort, and appreciating the fact that the turkey must be suffering with the cold by this time, we took a rest across the fence, and after carefully adjusting our globe sight, pulled on him and succeeded in hitting the post to which he was fastened, which so frightened the bird, that he broke loose and flew up in a tree near by.

We suggested that we would see him later and hurried away to dinner.

At one p. m. the roll was called and we started out for the meadow to try our hand at longer range.

As the 35 pound gobbler as ever graced a Thanksgiving table was selected as the first victim, and at 1:30 we were in position and every thing ready. A steady fire was kept up until dark and on going to the turkey we were surprised to find him sound asleep. A loud who-who and a gentle snore restored him to animation, cutting the cord that held him, we wished him a happy new year and hurried away to bid our host good night.

When the weather gets warm the club propose to spend another day with the honorary member and capture not only the balance of the turkeys but all the deer in the park.

TREASURY.

Nothing of importance transpired in the circuit court to-day.

MUSTARD COURT.

In the municipal court this morning Henry Sears plead guilty to the charge of larceny, and the day of trial, by jury, was set for January 9th, and the court assigned Mr. C. M. Scanzani as the attorney for the prisoner.

The case of the state against George Trarwith is now on trial, the defendant being charged with stealing a watch and fifteen dollars in money, the property of Philip Behrendt. The trial is by a jury consisting of Messrs. L. M. Gilmore, Frank Plerson, L. B. Trach, Charles Brown, John McChesney, F. R. Bennett, S. B. Keyton, E. C. Smith, Thomas Bowles and H. A. Watson. W. B. Conrad, C. E. Pierce and H. A. Patterson, appear for the state, and Philip Norcross for the defendant.

Young men, multiple aged men and all who suffer from dizziness, headaches and will find Allen's Brain Food the most powerful invigorant ever introduced; once restored from it there is no relapse. Try it; it never fails. $1.00 for $5.00. Allen's Brain Food, New York City.

Manufacture Evidence.

J. W. Graham, Wholesale Druggist, of Austin, Texas, writes—I have been handling Dr. Wm. Hall's BALM FOR RHEUMATISM for the past year, and have found it one of the most valuable medicines I have ever had in my house for Coughs, Colds, and even Consumption, always giving entire satisfaction. Please send me another gross.

Postoffice Business.

The reduction of letter postage from 3 to 2 cents, has not decreased the revenue at the Janesville postoffice. The effect has been in the other direction. For the last quarter of 1882, the sale of stamps and stamped envelopes was as follows:
